Chain Bridge Bank, N.A. does not have its own SWIFT code. International wires reach the Bank through Pacific Coast Bankers' Bank.

Please note. The sender must give the beneficiary's full address, including city and country. A wire with an incomplete address can be rejected under Fedwire rules. The beneficiary name and account number must match the Bank's records. Under Fedwire rules and UCC § 4A-207, the Bank may credit a wire on the account number alone, so an error in the account number can send funds to the wrong account. These instructions are operational guidance and do not change any account or service agreement.
